

I am a stone, a little one time made a hole right through me I am a stone, a special one with a scar so deep, you see right through me I am a stone, a little one and powers are within me just make a wish or contemplate the troubles that are in you I'll make it all just go away with the powers that are in me don't you carry the burden anymore or even climb your mountain I'll make the mountain go away I'll make it flat and easy so there's nothing in your way just flatness all around you I'll make your troubles go a way I'll kill off all the mountains so everything will be just fine for sure my little darling so make a wish, Sisyphus dear and have some hope within you you find me next to other stones the ones that are so silent at first you may not notice me but go a head and find me just take a walk by the sea a little hole is in me I'm hidden well enough but sure worth finding so don't be suffering no more just go a head and find me I'll protect your day and sleep and the walls that surround you just hang me all around your place and carry me with you come on! just trust in me I'll make it nice and easy you say you don't believe in me but you don't even have to my magic works without belief and even in denial so there's no need for it just hush my little darling look for me, you need some more your thoughts are just too heavy look through me, I'll show the way see! everything's unfolding now you're walking back and forth and storing luck for later still think it's stupid though? but you're the one with stones covering your floors, stairs and doors and all the windows in your walls the only light you see is coming through our holes so there's my story here take me or just leave me but you know you can't resist the luck so just shut up and store me.
